Theater and Media Performance

Career Pathways

School of Humanities and Sociationces

Overview:

Theatreand Media Performance emphasizible similarities and ifferences among stage, hternet, video, and film performance. Studies will include movement, voice for the actor, improvisation, sea enalysis and script analysis within historical datoultural contexts and learn how these skills apply to theatre and media production skills such as self-wareness and the exploration of both verbal and nonverbal expression, as well asseative thinking will be acquired or stage and media performances. The auditioning process and being prepared to perform for the camear will also be addres

An Employer's Perspective:

From an employer pereptive Theatreand Media Performance majors have the ability to speak SXEOLFO\, have gipeat showma skills and memorization skills. Theo an creatively communicate verbally damon-verbally, as well as use collaborative problemsdving skills through all aspects of the process. These types foskills can be applied to annumber of careers and industries.

Salaries:

Salaries are depdent upon the industry, level of position, and geographical region. A few good ressess for researching salaries of specific jobswithin various industries are www.salarycom and www.payscale.com.
